WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

A broad area of high pressure will maintain mostly dry and warm conditions across northwest California through the work week. A low pressure system will bring the next chance for rain late this weekend.

Medford Weather:

A shortwave trough will shift east this morning and a shortwave upper level ridge will build into the area today and Friday. The ridge will bring dry weather with mild to warm daytime temperatures. On the weekend, models show a surface low and upper trough approaching the coast Saturday night and early Sunday. The system is expected to gradually move inland Sunday night bringing a chance for rain to the area.

Reno Weather:

Dry weather and generally light winds are expected for the next few days with variable amounts of high cloud coverage. Temperatures will be near or slightly average through early next week. Low pressure may bring a chance of rain back to the region by the middle of next week.

San Francisco Weather:

Low clouds patchy fog and coastal drizzle can be expected this morning followed by partial clearing by late morning and afternoon. Locally breezy conditions in the higher terrain, is possible today as well. Dry weather is forecast for the weekend with temperatures mostly above seasonal normal. A low pressure area over the Pacific may bring some rain to the area by the middle of next week.

WEATHER

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY:

Sacramento Weather:

Warm and dry weather continues. A passing weather system will bring some clouds to the region today. Another system may bring some showers to the mountains on Sunday.

Hanford Weather:

Dry weather is expected across the central California interior through at least Tuesday. Afternoon temperatures will average above normal through the period. A storm system over the eastern Pacific will bring cooler temperatures and a chance of wet weather by the middle of next week.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

Weak onshore flow will result in cooler conditions and a likely return of low clouds and fog for parts of the coastal plain Thursday and Friday with clouds clearing in the afternoon. After a weak trough moves through on Thursday a weak ridge of high pressure builds in on Friday. The weak ridge will allow warmer weather to return for the weekend and early next week.

Extreme Southwestern California including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

Fair and warmer weather is forecast for today through the weekend as weak high pressure continues over the region. Periods of high and low clouds and small variations in temperature are expected next week.

Southeast California Weather:

A low pressure system will exit Arizona this afternoon taking rainfall chances east out of the region. Somewhat cooler than average temperatures, will transition to warmer than the seasonal normal, by this weekend. Drier conditions under mostly clear skies will persist across the area through at least the beginning of next week.
